

How many different types of whales will one find in the ocean around South Africa?

At least 37 species of whales and dolphins can be found in the waters off South Africa, however, the Southern Right Whale is the most readily spotted.